1.3. Software package

A serial number unlocks NS.Plugin.Wavenis for your application only indefinitely.

The serial can be generated for

- The PC version of the standalone software DLL of NS.Plugin.Wavenis.
- The CE version of the standalone software DLL of NS.Plugin.Wavenis.

The serial number gives you access to all updates within a year of its issue, and will keep working after your subscription expires.

- The PC source code of the Software development kit (SDK)
- One year block subscription for maintenance updates.

1.4. Subscription package

At Nitrosoft we are pleased to offer "no nonsense" licensing. You simply purchase a license for each production usage. For example: you create an application using NS.Plugin.Wavenis, you need a license for the application only, not the number of copies you will distribute.

1.4.1. Regular subscription renewal

A regular subscription renewal occurs when the new subscription period is contiguous with the previous subscription

1.4.2. Update subscription renewal

An update subscription renewal occurs when the new subscription period is not contiguous with the previous subscription period (for example, six months after the previous subscription period ended)

Subscription holders also receive:

- All minor version upgrades during the subscription period.
- All major version upgrades during the subscription period.

Each NS.Plugin.Wavenis license purchase includes:

- The complete set of Enterprise level NS.Plugin.Wavenis features
- Royalty free distribution when the distribution terms are met. (see Redistribution terms)

Subscription renewal purchase includes:

- All minor version upgrades during the subscription period.
- All major version upgrades during the subscription period.

1.5. Definitions

Application: is defined as a single named executable.

Fully qualified domain: is defined as the complete domain, including sub domains.

In addition to saving thousands of dollars over competing solutions, our licensing simplifies deployment and testing for your team. You need only purchase a license for each production application where you wish to use NS.Plugin.Wavenis.

Support: is defined as providing help on usage of the library. Questions relating to the sensors are not covered by the support packages.
